POETICAL.

BARBARA FRIETCHIE.

We give our readers this week, WHITTIER'S beautiful poem, "BARBARA FRIETCHIE," together with a little preface from Harper's Weekly. Originally published in the Atlantic Monthly.

When "STONEWALL" JACKSON invaded Maryland in 1862 there was found in Frederick, through which his troops marched, one fearless Unionist, an aged lady, whose name was BARBARA FRIETCHIE. Faithful among the faithless, she held out the "Stars and Stripes" from her window in the very faces of the rebel raiders. The story is well told in WHITTIER'S beautiful poem, which we have taken the liberty of copying below.

BARBARA FRIETCHIE.

Up from the meadows rich with corn,
Clear in the cool September morn,

The clustered spires of Frederick stand
Green-walled by the hills of Maryland,

Round about them orchards sweep,
Apple and peach tree fruited deep,

Fair as a garden of the Lord
To the eyes of the famished rebel horde,

On that pleasant morn of the early fall
When Lee marched over the mountain-wall—

Over the mountain winding down,
Horse and foot, into Frederick town.

Forty flags with their silver stars,
Forty flags with their crimson bars,

Flapped in the morning wind: the sun
Of noon looked down, and saw not one.

Up rose old Barbara Frietchie then
Bowed with her fourscore years and ten;

Bravest of all in Frederick town,
She took up the flag the men hauled down;

In her attic-window the staff she set,
To show that one heart was loyal yet.

Up the street came the rebel tread,
Stonewall Jackson riding ahead.

Under his slouched hat left and right
He glanced; the old flag met his sight.

"Halt!"—the dust-brown ranks stood fast,
"Fire!"—out blazed the rifle-blast.

It shivered the window, pane and sash;
It rent the banner with seam and gash.

Quick, as it fell, from the broken staff
Dame Barbara snatched the silken scarf;

She leaned far out on the window-sill,
And shook it forth with a royal will.

"Shoot if you must, this old grey head,
But spare your country's flag," she said.

A shade of sadness, a blush of shame,
Over the face of the leader came;

The nobler nature within him stirred
To life at that woman's deed and word:

"Who touches a hair of yon grey head
Dies like a dog! March on!" he said.

All day long through Frederick street
Sounded the tread of marching feet:

All day long that free flag tost
Over the heads of the rebel host.

Ever its torn folds rose and fell
On the loyal winds that loved it well;

And through the hill-gaps sunset light
Shone over it with a warm good-night.

Barbara Frietchie's work is o'er,
And the Rebel rides on his raids no more.

Honor to her! and let a tear
Fall, for her sake, on Stonewall's bier.

Over Barbara Frietchie's grave,
Flag of Freedom and Union, wave!

Peace and order and beauty draw
Round thy symbol of light and law;

And ever the stars above look down
On thy stars below in Frederick town!

At last I hev it! Finally it come! After five weary trips to Washington, after much weary waitin and much travail I hev got it. I am now Postmaster at Confedrit X Roads, and am dooly installed in my new position. Ef I ever hed any doubts ez to A. Johnson bein a better man than Paul the Apostle, a look at my commission removes it. Ef I ketch myself a feelin that he deserted me onnecessarily five years ago, another look and my resentment softens into pity. Ef I doubt his Democrisy I look at that blessed commission and am reassured for a President who dood turn out a wounded Federal soldier and appoint sich a man ez me must be above suspicion.

MEDICAL.

To the Public.

I had intended to let the report (as reported in the papers of this county of July 18th and 20th, under the head of "Medical," of my expulsion from the communion and membership of the Medical Society of this county, pass unnoticed; but time and observation has convinced me that justice to myself and the Public, from whom I am still endeavoring to make a living, demands at my hands a few cursory remarks relative to it. And in making them, I wish to have it clearly understood that I do not take exceptions to the act of expulsion, or to a report of it; nor have I any malign feelings towards the Society, or any of its members, on account of either; for, as I hold, they did just what the Code of Ethics of the American Medical Association (whose servants they are) compelled them to do in the premises.—Notwithstanding, I do, and shall, take exceptions to the report as reported. It is both too definite and too indefinite. It is too definite, because it refers, with marked preciseness, to a section and paragraph in said section of by-laws. It is too indefinite, inasmuch as it fails to show the offense or offending that said section or paragraph has reference to, as reported.—It is an act of flagrant injustice upon me, and an imposition upon the public, for whose information, undoubtedly, the report is made. It is so, inasmuch as the constitution and by-laws of the Society, to which the report has reference, is the peculiar and exclusive property of the membership of the Society. They are theirs in such an especial sense as to preclude the possibility of the public, in general, of having any idea of what constitutes either the organic or penal laws of the Society. The Statute, a book which contains the section and paragraph referred to, is like the constitution and by laws of some benevolent associations in our country, or the Bible of a certain Church—the peculiar property of the Priesthood, or of the membership. Therefore, instead of enlightening the mind of the public, relative to the character of the offense, the report, as reported, only excites their curiosity and inquiry; and from any knowledge that they can have of the language of the section or paragraph referred to in the report, they are left to conjecture any imaginable offense. They might suppose that I had become an inebriate, or drunkard, and that the Society, with its watchful care, considered the suffering public as unsafe under my professional attendance. I am willing to admit that the observation of the public may have been such as to leave them to infer that the Society did not look upon drunkenness as a disqualifying offense; and, if so, then they might infer that I had become a lecher or vagabond, or addicted to any immoral and unlawful habit. In a word, the report leaves the public in very much the same blissful state of ignorance that His Highness, the Emperor Constantine, was in with reference to the doings of his guards, when Sebastes of Mytilene learned from Harpax, the chief of the guards, their purpose toward the Emperor. "But still, but still," said Sebastes, "wise the Emperor to discover"——"Ass," replied Harpax, "he cannot discover if he had all the eyes of Argus's tail. Here are twelve of us sworn, according to the rules of our Watch, to abide in the same story."—By the way, since having made this reference to the public, I see that it applies with equal aptness to the Society, with this exception: that they stand in the place of the guards in the drama, as reported by Harpax.—But, finally, with reference to this part of the report, I would say that in fact there is but one document of all the acts of the Organic body, that comes before the public with any degree of prominence; and that is the proboscis (or bill) of the body, which sticks out quite conspicuous in that direction—as indeed it should, as it is almost the only band that binds them together as a brotherhood.

The report is exceptionable in its language—"And the charges still remaining unanswered, and failing to give satisfaction at the proper time." It is so in this respect, inasmuch as it covers up the Epitrope of the Society in this matter, and substitutes a new charge of delinquency against me, as I shall endeavor to show, by presenting the public with a full copy of the findings of a Committee, appointed by the President of the Society, to act as a Grand Jury in the premises. The copy is as follows:

JANUARY 20th, 1866.

We, the undersigned a committee appointed by the President of the Beaver County Medical Society, at its last regular meeting on the 11th day of January, 1866, to investigate and report on a paper purporting to be an advertisement of medical remedies, manufactured and sold by Dr. John S. Winans & Co., contrary to the Code of Ethics adopted by said Society, do hereby report that, from the evidence before us, we find him guilty, in our opinion, of the following charges:—

CHARGE 1ST.—Conduct unbecoming a regular member of the profession.

Specification 1st.—In that he publicly claims and professes to practice a system of medicine not recognized by the profession.

CHARGE 2ND.—Violation of the Code of Ethics of the American Medical Association

Specification 1st.—In that he resorts to public advertisements, private cards and handbills, inviting the attention of individuals affected with particular diseases, and promising radical cures.

Specification 2nd.—In that he is concerned in the manufacture and sale of secret nostrums.

The committee would also respectfully submit to the Society the accompanying letter from Dr. John S. Winans, directed to the chairman of the committee, and the advertisements of the remedies, as collateral evidence of the charges preferred. All of which is respectfully submitted.

[Signed,] D. STANTON,
J. E. JACKSON,
B. FRIGHT.

I hereby certify the above to be a correct copy of the original report of the committee.

[Signed,] ISAAC WINANS, Sec'y.

FEBRUARY 13th, 1866.

DR. JOHN S. WINANS: You are hereby cited to appear before the Society at its next regular meeting, to be held at Rochester, on the 12th day of April next, to answer the foregoing charges.

[Signed,] ISAAC WINANS, Sec'y.

To show more clearly the fact, as asserted above on this part of the report (namely, epitrope and substitution), I would submit a copy of the paper submitted to the investigation committee, who found me guilty of, and made out the charges as above, omitting simply that part of it that gives a description of the remedies.—I make this omission that my enemies may not have occasion to say that I have made these exceptions to the report for the purpose of advertising.—The paper reads as follows:

DR. J. S. WINANS' CHRONO-THERMAL REMEDIES.

The Chrono-Thermal system of Medicine differs from all other systems in the following particulars:

First. We hold that all diseases are intermittent in their character, having their better and worse days or parts of days, as the case may be, that they all commence with a CHILL OR COLD STAGE, that may amount to a shake in one case, and may vary from that down in the scale of sensation to a mere sensitiveness of cold. This being true, we hold that Ague is the type of all diseases, and if we can cure an ague (which we hold is a curable disease), then we have arrived at a principal basis, which if properly applied, will be more likely to cure a larger amount of all diseases than any other system of practice that has ever been adopted.

Second. We hold that the life of every living thing depends upon the vital life-giving principle of caloric or heat, and that the tendency of all diseases is to reduce this element of life in the system, or to cut off the elements that should feed it, and keep it in proper ratio in the economy of health. As a result of holding the above views, we discard the use of the lancet or blood-letting and blistering, because they abstract a part of the elementary matter that makes up the life of the beings that possess them.

Third. In the use of remedies we discard all that have a tendency to reduce the great life-supporting elements of the system, and use only those that have the properties of supporting and keeping it up.

Fourth. In selecting our remedies we take those that stand highest in the order of the class from which they are taken, and that are perfectly safe in their use.

The following remedies are all prepared on the above principle.

DR. J. S. WINANS' AGUE CURE.

Now if you will just look back and read the preamble of the committee that accompanies the charges, you will see at once that on the 11th day of January the President of the Society appointed the committee to investigate and report upon the paper, that the Society had no idea of finding me guilty of any higher offense than of a violation of the Code of Ethics, in getting up a secret nostrum, as is clearly seen in the language of the preamble, and as is clearly evident from the language of the second charge. But that when on the twentieth of the same month, the committee in their deliberations came to examine the paper, they found in the preamble that accompanied the advertisement of the remedies a root of offense, that when associated with the "accompanying letter" referred to, was of sufficient weight in their judgment for them to find a true bill for a much higher offense than that of a simple violation of the code of Ethics of the American Medical Association, under which head the second offence is classed. Ethics is the doctrine of morality or social manners, the science which teaches men their duty and the reasons of it (as every one knows). Now the specification under the second charge sets forth very minutely in every way, manner and form in which I have violated (as they claim) this law of morals and manners. But as I see it, the public under the free institutions of this country has never as yet surrendered up their rights to a reserved privilege of Ethics, even in things pertaining to medicine and medical men. And if the Medical Association of the country will concede this privilege to the public, then I am guilty under the second charge, if guilty at all, of an infringement of the rights of the public, unless the Ethics of the American Medical Association make every man in his private practice a Dummy to stand in his office door or on the corners of the streets for the Hierarchy of the profession (the American Association) to exhibit their hats, caps, cloaks and all the paraphernalia and tricks of their profession.—That we may see the truth of this declaration more clearly, let us read the first specification under the second charge. I will read, and you, the public, pay attention. (Thus slowly) In that he resorts to p-u-b-l-i-c (yes it is public) a-d-v-e-r-t-i-s-e-m-e-n-t-s (advertisements.) Now you see that if in this sentence I have infringed upon the rights of any one, it is the rights of the public, unless, as I have already remarked, I am as a professional man a Dummy, for the profession to hang their professional tricks on. But that is not all of it. The sentence itself is entirely gratuitous and untrue, as I have never as yet resorted to public advertisements either in favor of myself or a remedy. I have ever been possessed of too much modesty to venture any such thing. So much for second charge, first paragraph.—But let us read again. P-r-i-v-a-t-e c-a-r-d-s (private cards)—no, I have not, or h-a-n-d-b-i-l-l-s (hand bills)—yes, I have. I am guilty, that is so—inviting the attention of individuals afflicted with particular diseases, and promising radical cures—yes it's cures—yes, I am guilty—promising radical cures. Yes, that is the nut without the shuck. To cure or promise a cure what, tell a sick man that you can cure him when you know exactly what is the matter with him, (got an ague); promise to cure him without his having a second chill, and do it every time, and that without giving him the advantage of a single visit. Most surely this is a violation of the rights of the public; but I did it, and am still doing it, and that is not the worst of it, I produce the cure, as I am able to show, (excuse the remarks) and if any member of the Society is now shaking with the disease hard enough to shake the horns off the dilemma, it is hanging on, I will cure him in three days with the remedy, or desist from thus further offending.

But the report as reported is exceptionable in as much as it entirely fails either to make reference to a section or paragraph of sections, or Code of Ethics in which I offended, in manner or form, so as to give occasion for the finding of the higher offense as set forth in the bill of indictment in the first charge and as is expressed in the following language: "Conduct unbecoming a regular member of the profession;" and particularized and expressed in the language of the first (and only) specification, under said charge, "In that he publicly claims and professes to practice a system of medicine not recognized by the profession," so that you see when properly analyzed, the first charge is a charge of heresy against me, as is evident from the language quoted, a thing that is really very novel or in these latter days of the well fenced enclosures and well guarded gates of the organic association of the so claimed regular established system of the practice of medicine. Her walls and gates had become so strong, and her internal discipline so rigid, that she had ceased to burden her statute books with penal laws or sections or paragraphs of sections, for the punishment of such offences or offenders. It is not now in the profession as in the days of her internal trials, when heresies were daily originating within her sacred enclosures and threatening her destruction. I refer to the days of Galen, Boerhave, Cullen, Harvey, Hare, Jenner, and a host of others who were innovators in their days; then she had both statutes, sections and paragraphs of sections to punish such offenders; then her laws were laws to govern her members; now they are guards to bar her gates against the admission of all heresies and heretics, as is evident from the language of the section and paragraph referred to in the report as published of my expulsion, which is as follows: Section 2d. No physician shall be eligible to be elected a member of this Society who shall procure a patent for a remedy, or an instrument of surgery, or who sells or deals in patent medicines or nostrums; (first paragraph), or who prescribes a remedy without knowing its composition, or who shall hereafter give a certificate in favor of a patent remedy or instrument." The charges still remaining unanswered." Yes, unanswered. And why? Because the Society had no law or Ethics by which they could try me on the first charge, and I was determined to be tried on the charges and specifications as I stood indicted by the Society.

J. S. WINANS.

IT is proposed in a letter to the New York Herald from Richmond that Gen Lee should attend the meeting of Soldiers and Sailors in the interest of the Johnson Democracy.—The writer asserts that if General Grant and General Lee were to attend the meeting together the effect would be electrical. No doubt of it. Those two Generals once met together, and we distinctly remember the effect was electrical. When the Copperheads and Rebels procure the presence of General Grant at any meeting inconsistent with the objects of that, he may with safety be expected to commit suicide or do any other atrocious thing the very next moment.—*Pitts. Oil City Correspondence.

Dear Captain:—Riding on the cars the other day between Shaffer and Titusville, I was forcibly reminded of those "high old times" in oildom, when fortunes were made (and lost) in a day. The fortunate owner of 300 acres of the land lying on either side of Oil creek, next above the Roster Farm, (which is of itself a part of the famous "Pioneer run" territory,) was on the train feeling very rich. On the Saturday previous he had been offered three hundred thousand dollars for his acres, which he refused, and then told of it. A fellow traveler turned to him, exclaiming: "You an old fool!" at which our would be millionaire replied: "That's as folks think." For property undeveloped, this offer may be said to be something huge. The "big bugs" in the refining business have just gone back on the small-fry of the craft, in a manner which causes some fluttering. It is well known that the packages of refined oil are all gauged by a Government Inspector, he receiving from the refiner, five cents for each barrel inspected. To the large refiners, this amounted to a very respectable sum, and they accordingly petitioned "the Department" for the appointment of a special officer for each refinery. This was acceded to by the Government, and orders were issued to this effect, placing the salary of such official at $1,500 per annum, to be paid by each refinery.—This is quite a saving to an establishment turning out from 200 to 500 barrels daily, but hard on those doing their 25 to 50 barrels; and they are meeting and protesting in due course.

The weather (that never failing topic) still continues cool. We have none of the "corn-nights," but had last week a severe frost. Almost everybody was trying to see who could tell the biggest story as to the size of the snow ball each had made that morning. So accustomed are the dwellers in this country to the extravagant oil yarns, that they carry their "Munchausens" into everything.

We were quite surprised last week to hear that oil had at last been found on "Cherry Tree Run," and in paying quantities. It is true, and the well which has been rated from 250 to 1000 barrels, is honestly doing its 90 barrels. It is located about two miles from the mouth of the Run, and in the line running from the "Noble Well," through "Pioneer," "Benneboff" and "Stevenson Farm." Yesterday the market was quite excited by the report from New York that 54,000 barrels of oil had been consumed by fire in that place. This turned out to be 15,000—about the production of two days, and not worth mentioning.

One of the most destructive of all "pond freshes," a young flood, took place last week. A tremendous thunder storm so raised the creek, that, aided by the breaking away of the dams near Titusville, the violence of water pouring down towards the Allegheny was perfectly awful. The boatmen were entirely unprepared for it, and boats, oil and lumber went down the creek in the greatest confusion. It is supposed that some 6000 barrels of oil floated out into the river. As the Farmer's Railroad approaches completion, and proposes to enter into active competition in freighting oil down the creek, it meets with a new opponent, and one not counted on.—Messrs. Harley, who are now the owners of two or three successful "pipelines," propose to lay down, in the bed of the creek, a line of pipe, extending from Pioneer Run to Oil City. This once done, nothing can compete with them in "carrying" oil. The "Oil Creek R. R." is now moving over 3000 barrels daily up the creek, most of which goes to the New York market.

One of the quiet towns or "burghs," not many miles from the creek, was enlivened the other day by a fight between two "foragers," who came to blows because they could not otherwise settle their respective claims as to which was the oldest thief. The spectators were most disinterested, hoping that they might both be —— well whipped. After several blows and two or three roll-overs, one of them, (probably) in order that his adversary should not escape him during the manouvre, thrust his nose into the other's mouth, while he executed a change of base. The other not being well read in tactics, at once "closed" on him. The fight came to an end, and the end came off the nose. It has long been an adage about adding an inch to a man's nose; but that would be no circumstance to taking off an inch. So accustomed are the inhabitants of this section to the daily "Sheriff's Sales," that in one place the lovers of ardent have got up a new "drink" called "Sheriff's Smash." It is made up of such a combination of the different kinds of juice, among which are "Globe Sight," "Tanglefoot," "Forty-rod," and "Red-eye," that it is said, that after taking two drinks, one doesn't care how soon the Sheriff sells him out.

People up here havn't got as wide awake as your people on the subject of politics. You are getting in considerable of a sweat. Just to think! If all these politicians had to live and die by what they say in a "canvass," I'd sooner take "odds" on the "reliable gentlemen" of Oil Creek or Pit Hole either. Wouldn't you? Thine,

PAUL FECIT.

Increased Salaries.

The Bucyrus (Ohio) Journal says:

Copperhead papers are endeavoring to make capital with their ignorant readers in regard to the late bill increasing the yearly salaries of Congressmen from $3,000 to $5,000. Now while we believe the bill to be a just one, in many respects, yet we cannot but condemn the cowardly mode by which it was passed, viz: by tacking on to a Soldiers' Bounty bill, and are glad to be able to state that our present member, Mr. Buckland, has publicly stated that he was opposed to an increase in any form,—particularly in the manner in which it was passed—that he was unwell, and left Washington before the adjournment of Congress on this account—that a bill to increase salaries was defeated a few days before, and he had no idea that it would again be brought forward,—but he would have stayed at the risk of his health to vote against it, had he had any intimation that it would have been brought up again. We say we are glad to make this record for Mr. Buckland, as it will disarm the Copperheads of this District.

The statement that the bill is an increase of $2,000 over and above the former compensation of Congressmen, is false. The claims are increased to $5,000 it is true, but the mileage is reduced from forty to twenty cents per mile, so that the actual increased expense to the Government, is only about $25,000 per year, instead of $2,000 a year apiece, to about three hundred Senators and Representatives, as Copperheads are endeavoring to make their dupes believe. The Sandusky Register gives the figure as follows:

The mileage for a single Congress, using the Thirty-eighth as a basis, amounts to $1,887,996.59. The same bill which raises the salaries of Congressmen sixty per cent.—also reduces their mileage fifty per cent.—equal to $943,998. The increase of salaries—counting two hundred and forty members at $4,000 each—(and the proportion will remain the same when a full Congress is assembled) amounts to $976,000 for two years, or one Congress. Thus, offsetting the decrease in mileage against the increase of regular salary, and the future effect of the new law will be to increase the total annual pay of the entire Congress less than twenty-five thousand dollars.—The law in its future effect is really a law to equalize rather than increase the pay of Congressmen.

It takes off from the enormous mileage fees of the Pacific members and adds to the slim salaries of Eastern, Southern and Middle State members.

For this increase Copperhead members are as deep in the mud as the Union members are in the mire.—Here is the classified vote culled out by the same paper:—

	Cop.	Rep.	Total.
Vote for the bill	16	35	51
" against	7	43	50

And the Register very pertinently concludes with:—

Thus while a majority of Union members voted against the bill the Copperheads supported the measure by a vote of more than two to one. Copperhead orators may thunder against Congress as they please but their blows must be aimed quite as much against Copperheads as Union members. The bill could not have been passed without Copperhead votes and those votes were given.

A Genuine Johnson Democrat.

The Doylestown Intelligencer says:

Colonel W. W. H. Davis, by appointment of Senator Wallace, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, presented himself at the Johnson Convention in Philadelphia as a delegate from Bucks county. As there may be some question as to his fitness to represent the Johnson men of the county, we will remove that doubt by citing Colonel Davis' published opinion of Mr. Johnson's conduct on a certain occasion. We quote from the editorial columns of the Doylestown Democrat of March 14, 1865:

A DRUNKEN VICE PRESIDENT.—For the first time in our history we have a drunken Vice President. The second office in the gift of the American people is filled by a man who gets besotted on whisky. When Andrew Johnson took the oath of office and delivered his inaugural on the 4th of March he was beastly drunk, and by his conduct disgraced his position, the Senate and the Government. He was so much intoxicated that he could not articulate plainly; he even forgot the name of the Secretary of the Navy.—His speech was rambling, disconnected and vulgar. The Senators hung their heads in shame, while the audience was astonished. Think of such an exhibition as this before the representatives of foreign governments! It is not strange that they looked on with amazement. This is the conduct of a man held up to the people as a paragon of loyalty, virtue and statesmanship. The Vice President of the United States a common drunkard! A bad feature in the matter is, that such papers as the Tribune, Times and Press, try to conceal the truth; they have no words of censure for such disgraceful conduct. Other Republican papers have the courage to condemn it in proper terms, and we publish extracts from them below. If a Democratic Vice President had thus disgraced himself and the country, the whole Abolition press would have resounded with it. It sometimes makes a difference whose ox is gored.

Union Meeting!

FIRST RALLY OF THE CAMPAIGN!

THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF BEAVER COUNTY are requested to meet at the COURT HOUSE, IN BEAVER,

on

Wednesday Evening, Sept. 5th,

(Court week), at 7½ o'clock. The Hon. GEO. V. LAWRENCE, our faithful and able Representative in Congress; Rev. Mr. BAYNE, of Cannonsburg, one of the most eloquent stumpers in Pennsylvania, and other distinguished advocates of the cause, have been invited and are expected on the occasion.

As this is our opening Rally in this county, let there be an overwhelming demonstration on the part of our friends.

By Order of
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

UNION MASS CONVENTION IN BEAVER!

The Loyal people of Beaver county will meet in Mass Convention, in the boro' of Beaver, on TUESDAY, SEPT. 11th, 1866.

Gov. A. G. CURTIN,
Gen. JOHN W. GEARY,
Hon. A. K. M'CLURE,
Col. S. C. BLACKMAN,
Hon. LOUIS W. HALL,
Hon. G. V. LAWRENCE,
T. M. MARSHALL, Esq.;

and other distinguished champions of the Cause have promised positively to be with us on that occasion.

The ladies of Beaver propose presenting a SPLENDID FLAG to the District, outside of the Villages, sending the largest delegation, in proportion to the Republican vote cast in 1864.

Come out, friends, in your might! Come out, as you never came before! Come out, and demonstrate by your numbers and language, that Rebels and Rebel sympathizers, are not the persons, yet awhile, to assume control of a government baptized in blood, and which their united efforts could not destroy.

COME ONE! COME ALL!

By order of EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The Rally To-Night.

The Union men of Beaver county open their campaign in this place to-night. Hon. Geo. V. Lawrence, our member of Congress, and Rev. J. M Barn will be present to address them. Let there be an overwhelming demonstration from the surrounding boroughs and townships.

Johnson Improves upon Dix.

At the outbreak of the rebellion Gen. Dix said, "If any man hauls down the American flag shoot him on the spot."

After the war is closed Andy Johnson says, "If any man is known to have hauled down the American flag ask him if he won't accept an office."

A Candid Confession.

Hiester Clymer, in opening his speech here on Friday last, remarked, in substance, that the crowd before him was the largest and most enthusiastic that had greeted his presence anywhere during the campaign.—When, therefore, it is borne in mind that the audience he was just then addressing numbered only about 250 voters, and that these were as cold as an icicle it must occur to every one that his chances of being the next Governor of this State are exceedingly slim. Will the Local dare deny that Mr. Clymer made the above admission? Hardly.

The Speeches of Last Friday.

Mr. Clymer's speech in this place on Friday last, was fully as moderate in style as we could expect. He is rather a pleasant speaker, and does not descend into the slough that usually characterizes speakers of his party. To the terms used by Mr. Clymer, then, Union men will not object, but to his matter they do. For instance, he arrays himself directly and unequivocally in opposition to the proposed constitutional amendment, and thus claims that the old three-fifths rule is the proper basis of representation; that it is radically wrong to exclude perjured rebels from office, and that it is equally wrong to guarantee by constitutional provision the payment of our own and the repudiation of the rebel debt. In fact Mr. Clymer, while he does so in gentlemanly language, gulps down the whole copperhead creed, both ancient and modern, and we suppose is willing to stand or fall by what it avows.

Mr. William Montgomery, of Washington county, the copperhead candidate for Congress in this District, was the only other speaker present at the meeting. In the procession of an hour or two before, there was a picture of a negro lying on his back. This caricature was placed immediately in front of Mr. Montgomery while he was speaking, and the way he "went into Sambo" was a caution. He kicked, cuffed, scratched, pinched and bit the poor negro until one would think there was hardly even a grease spot left of him; but it must have been extremely mortifying to Mr. M., whose avordupois is about 250, to find that notwithstanding his tremendous blows, Sambo was still uninjured, laying before him, with heels stuck up, thumb and finger on the nose, and seeming to say "go it ole fellow, I can stand all you can give me." If we were a Democrat, we don't believe that we could now support Mr. Montgomery, just because he kicked that "nigger" so unmercifully; and that, too, when the fellow was laying on his back when Montgomery came across him. If he had put him in that position himself, we believe we could look over it; but this thing of maltreating a man after others have tied or thrown him, is too gross a violation of the "rules of the ring" to be tolerated, and we believe Mr. Montgomery will lose at least 25 votes in this county in consequence of it.—This "mill" between him and the colored man consumed all of Mr. Montgomery's time, and at present writing we are not advised as to what platform he is running on, nor what he expects to do if the people of this District should do so foolish a thing as to send him to Congress!

A New Development of Democratic Tactics.

HOW LIES ARE MANUFACTURED:

A Democrat residing in Industry township, who had been connected in some business transaction with Col. Taylor, was within the last two weeks waited upon by prominent copperhead politicians, and offered one hundred dollars for a certificate that Taylor had cheated him. He refused indignantly to give it, and was told that the Local would make the charge anyhow. He said that if the charge was published he would give a statement to the contrary, and accordingly the Local was "mum."

Will the Democratic party of Beaver county sanction these corrupt and unprincipled efforts of their leaders to blacken the character of a fellow citizen? When was this new system of tactics introduced into Democratic campaigns? Who furnishes the money to conduct work of this kind; and if the Industry Democrat was to receive $100, how much does another individual get that is just now engaged in the business which he declined!

A Change of Postmasters.

A. W. Campbell, the Union Postmaster of the city of Wheeling, appointed by Abraham Lincoln, has been removed and Odell S. Long reigns in his stead. Long edited a copperhead sheet in this place in 1861, '62 and '63, and was at one time under arrest for a gross libel upon Governor Curtin. In 1864 he took charge of the Register, the secesh organ in the city of Wheeling, was arrested for disloyalty by the military authorities and confined for some months in the military prison there. He is now Secretary of the copperhead State Committee of West Va., and of course a devoted admirer of "my policy".—The appointment is one eminently fit to be made, and reflects much credit upon him who made it.

HON. WM. MONTGOMERY was on Tuesday of last week renominated by the Democrats of this District, as their candidate for Congress. Mr. M. represented his district in Congress some years ago, is a man of considerable force of character, but will be as easily beaten by Mr. Lawrence this fall, as was Mr. Lazear by that gentleman two years ago.

The Democratic Mass Meeting.

The Democratic mass meeting held in this place on Friday last was a complete failure so far as numbers and enthusiasm were concerned. The procession (and all the Democrats in attendance were in it) was composed of the following: Persons on foot 150; on horseback, 14; in wagons and buggies, (principally filled with women and children) 220; making a grand total of men, women and children who came to Beaver on last Friday to see and hear Hiester Clymer, of 384. We never saw the Democratic face more terribly elongated than on that day; and well might it be so, for the smallness of the number present and the utter absence of any enthusiasm on the part of those who were here, is a sure precursor of the doom that awaits the party on the second Tuesday of October. We believed before this meeting that Clymer would fall 30,000 short of success; we now confidently anticipate that Gen. Geary will lead him at least 50,000 in the State. The Democratic party here feel that it is useless to make a fight in Clymer's behalf; and no one knows better than that gentleman himself that if he ever reaches the Gubernatorial chair of Pennsylvania, it will be in some other campaign than this one. He felt as if he had no hope, he looked as if he had no hope, and he talked as if no ray of sunshine gleamed through the cloud that has all along enveloped him. Hence, we think his effort now is only to prevent Geary's majority from being perfectly overwhelming; but even in this he will not succeed, for the present "ground swell" in favor of making treason odious will bury himself and party almost beyond sight.

The Coming of the Clans.

From every section of the county we hear this week that the Union men are moving, and that the Union clans will be here in powerful force on Tuesday next. The distinguished men from abroad who will be present on that day, together with the intense feeling that has now taken hold of the public mind in view of the apostacy of President Johnson, has brought about a "ground swell" that will turn up one of the most imposing demonstrations on the 11th of September that was ever seen in this county.

The soldiers, heroes of many a battle-field, will be out in full force at that time. As they took the post of danger in the hour of conflict, so will they be awarded the post of honor on Tuesday next. The understanding is that they will form a procession in Beaver early in the morning, march over to the depot, meet our distinguished guests, (Gov. Curtin and Gen. Geary) and then escort them to this place.—Come, soldiers, "let us rally once again."

The President as a Blasphemer.

Andy Johnson appears to have as little regard for matters of a sacred character as he has for those of only a secular significance. In passing through Philadelphia a few days ago on his western tour, he addressed an association of tailors, in which he made use of the following blasphemous language:

"We should remember when we refer to the mechanical interests of this country, in connection with the agricultural, that they cultivate the basis upon which this Government rests, and when we refer to the profession that you represent here to-night, let me say that your great Father in Heaven, the Lord of the World, was a tailor by trade. [Cheers and laughter.] And when you refer to a scripture account of this thing, you will find that my remarks are strictly true."

A Bright Sky.

The Union men of Beaver county realize in their fullest extent the magnitude of the issues before them—They are fired with an enthusiasm that is rarely witnessed in any campaign; and from the good cheer we receive from all parts of the county, we now believe that our majority cannot fall many votes below 1000.—The Philadelphia convention has demoralized our opponents, and like blind horses they stagger hither and thither, not knowing where they are nor where to bring up. Instead of "moving upon the Union works" as they proposed to a few months ago, the Union hosts are pressing them on all sides, and it needs but the continued steadying of our ranks from now till the election to insure their utter and irretrievable rout.

THE statement in last week's Local to the effect that Mr. Shroads does not tolerate preaching to the paupers in the Poor House is a malignant falsehood. Not only do we know ourself that religious services are very frequently held there, but we know from others that ministers of all denominations are cordially invited by the Steward to preach there whenever circumstances will permit.

Another Gun Spiked.

THE editor of the Local says that he has examined the report of the Adjutant General of Ohio, for 1864, and finds that the remark set opposite to his name is "resigned," and then adds:

"Isn't that awful? We are not the only officer of the army who resigned, however. If the Argus editor will recollect, he himself resigned his commission as captain," &c., &c.

Not quite, he didn't! On our retirement from the army business took us to Oil City, where we were obliged to stay for over a year. During this time a friend sent us a copy of the report of the Adjutant General of Ohio for 1864. In this report we saw that the remark set opposite to our name was "resigned". We immediately addressed the officer making that report a note, and in his reply of three or four days after, he says:

COLUMBUS, February 13th, 1866.

J. WEYAND, Late Capt. 126th O. V. I., Oil City, Penna.—Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your communication of the 11th inst., and in reply to inform you that the remark set opposite your name in my report of 1864 was a clerical error.

The copy of S. O. War Dep't. Sept. 23, 1864, on file in this office shows that you were "honorably discharged, on account of wounds received in action," and the records of this office have been corrected accordingly.

Very Respectfully,
Your ob't servant,
B. R COWEN,
Adj't. Gen'l. Ohio.

The Local's shot, therefore, didn't hit. It must break out in a new place.

Lowered the Flag.

Among all the Federal officers appointed in Allegheny county by the lamented President Lincoln, Ex-Mayor Weaver is the only one that has lowered the Union flag in Johnson's raid on office holders. Being a leading Republican, he was made District Assessor by Mr. Lincoln, and instead of standing shoulder to shoulder with the friends of that good man, after his death, he has joined hands with his enemies, and is now doing their vile work, simply that he may retain an office which gives him a few hundred dollars per year. The people of Allegheny county should thunder this isolated apostacy into his ears so frequently as to induce him to find a home in some other locality, and among some other people.

THE Local of last week contains the military histories of the soldiers that went from this county to the Harrisburgh convention. Some of these delegates report themselves in battles of which history does not speak; and others seem to have magnified the discharge of a gun or two into a terrific conflict, and take good care to set themselves down as having been in it. As this is Court week we will cut our remarks concerning these histories off as short as possible at the present, premising in the meantime, however, that a counter history of some of these delegates may ere long see the light of day.

Soldiers' Meeting.

The Soldiers of Beaver county, favorable to the election of Maj. Gen. J. W. Geary for Governor, and in favor of supporting the present Congress and their acts, against treason and usurpation, are requested to meet in convention at Beaver on Saturday, Sept. 8th, at 1 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of organizing a Geary Club, and sending delegates to the loyal Union Soldiers' Convention to be held at Pittsburgh, on the 24th of September, in opposition to the copperhead and office seekers' convention to be held at Cleveland on the 17th of September Every township in the county is requested to send at least two delegates and as many more as they see proper.

Reply of Col. A. W. Taylor to D. M. Donehoo.

BEAVER, August 27th, 1866.

MR. EDITOR: A communication appears in the last Local, signed by D. M. Donehoo, in relation to the transfer of the lease by him to me, referred to in your columns heretofore, which is so gross and malicious a perversion of the truth, that I must ask space for a reply.

Mr. Donehoo intimates that he is called out by some reflection upon his character in my letter to the Argus of the 15th inst. The truth is, that the letter presents him in a light not near so infamous as his own, and that for weeks before its publication he was retailing, orally, the slanders he has now given to the press. He was blatant upon the subject, pending the canvass for the Union Senatorial nomination, and finding that his falsehoods were being used with serious effect against me, I was compelled to demand of him, in a personal interview, that he should publish the transaction as it really was, or cease his clamor. He agreed to do the latter. His motive for the charge may be found in the natural desire of a man of intense copperhead prejudices to strike down a candidate upon the Union ticket.—There may be a sordid inducement, but at present I have no positive evidence of it.

His statement as to the original purchase, in brief, is as follows:

1. That he never offered me the lease at $700 until immediately previous to the consummation of the transaction.

2. That I then announced to him that I desired that the consideration should be stated in the writing at $800, that I might defraud my partner of $50, to which fraud he assented, and the lease was so drawn.

3. That the negotiation occupied but five hours from inception to its conclusion.

4. That at the execution of the agreement, I had certain private conversations with him in reference to the payments, confirmatory of any intention to defraud Mr. Imbrie.

5. That, in further confirmation of such intent, at the same time I paid but $100 of the consideration while Mr. Imbrie paid $200.

1. The first statement is false. The offer was made to me as stated in a previous communication, two days before the purchase was effected.

2. The second statement is also false. If I had designed to defraud any one, it is incredible that I would boldly announce my intention to Mr. Donehoo, and invite his co-operation—which he asserts was not only asked, but freely given. Upon this point the certificate of Mr. Imbrie (the gentleman alleged to have been defrauded), should certainly be the best testimony, and I here re-insert it. He was acquainted at the time with all the facts attending the transaction:

WELLSVILLE, OHIO, July 10, '66.

This will certify that in the purchase of a lease from D. M. Donehoo by A. W. Taylor and myself, that I was acquainted with the terms offered by Mr. Donahoo to Col. Taylor, and that he agreed that I should share equally with him in all the advantages growing out of Mr. Donahoo's offer to him, and in accordance with this agreement I received of him the sum of $50 00, being the amount which I had overpaid. I also state that so far as I know, there was no attempt whatever on the part of Col. Taylor to take any advantage of me in this transaction.

JAMES M. IMBRIE.

3. Two days intervened between the offer of Mr. Donehoo and its acceptance by Mr. Imbrie and myself. This can be established by Mr. James Brittain, to whom I endeavored to dispose of the lease, as well as by John T. Imbrie and James M. Imbrie.

4. The private conversations which Mr. Donehoo pretends to disclose, as a part of our common conspiracy, had never an existence except in his prolific imagination.

5. The first payment was $300. I had but one hundred dollars in my possession at the time, but asked Mr. Imbrie to advance the balance of the first payment, which he did. I came to Beaver, borrowed the money (having no funds immediately available,) from Mr. Michael Weyand, and refunded to Imbrie the $50 which he had paid in excess of his proportion.

To sum up, Mr. Donehoo asserts that there was a deliberate conspiracy between him and myself to defraud Mr. Imbrie, which was carried into execution. I allege that, whatever Mr. Donehoo intended, I had no such design and committed no fraud in the transaction, and Mr. Imbrie, the person alleged to have been injured and defrauded, confirms my statement over his own signature.

In reference to the change of consideration to $1200, Mr. Donehoo's statement is in part correct. But he errs as to the conversation which he represents occurred at the time.—The facts are as follows:

Having secured the lease, Mr. Imbrie and I determined to dispose of a part of it, and to retain ourselves an interest and develop it. I sold a sixteenth to Mr. Blackmore, and a sixteenth to Mr. Cole, at the rate of about $1200 for the entire property, each of these gentlemen being fully acquainted with the facts attending the purchase from Mr. Donehoo. These were the only persons to whom I sold any interest in the property. Mr Imbrie disposed of the balance in Wellsville at a higher figure, an interest being taken, as he informed me, by the pastor of the congregation to which he belonged. Messrs. Cole and Blackmore asked that a new lease should be executed to the then present parties in interest, showing the actual consideration paid for the property. I thought it more convenient to ask Mr. Donehoo to execute a new lease at that figure, and to cancel the old one, than to go to Wellsville and make one in conjunction with Mr. Imbrie, and did so. He objected, on the ground that in the event of failure of title, he might be made responsible for the consideration mentioned in the writing, and asked that I should give him a paper stating the fact of the increase, and that it was made at my request. I stated to him distinctly that the change was made at the instance and for the benefit (if any there were) of the parties to whom we had sold, but that I, of course, would shield him from responsibility, such as he dreaded, by giving him the instrument he required. I had the old lease before me in preparing this paper, for reference to dates, and mentioned the consideration, as stated in the lease, at $800. He called my attention to the fact, and I corrected the error by substituting the amount actually paid. It is possible that the fact that Imbrie had sold an interest to a minister was mentioned in the conversation; that I stated that the alteration was made at Imbrie's request, for the purpose of defrauding him, is simply false.

I herewith give you the certificates of the gentlemen who bought from Mr. Imbrie that they were in no wise defrauded. It is signed by all with whom he negotiated except one, who cannot now be reached, including the "Preacher" referred to by Donahoo.

WELLSVILLE, O., August 13.

We the undersigned, members of the Lincoln Oil Company, do hereby certify that we were not swindled in the purchase of stock in said company now boring for oil on the lease purchased by A. W. Taylor from D. M. Donahoo.

JOSEPH ANDREWS, Treas.,
D. L. KIDD,
MATTHEW M. LANE,
A. ROGERS,
A. S. STEWART.

In short Donahoo alleges that the second alteration was made to defraud the parties purchasing from Mr. Imbrie and myself. I aver that it was not, and the purchasers over their signatures confirm my statement.

I dislike exceedingly to introduce in print any animadversions upon the private character of a political opponent, but as there are issues of veracity between Mr. Donahoo and myself, I may be pardoned for adverting to a few circumstances in his business life, which may teach those Republicans who are interested in this controversy what is the manner of the man who seeks to drive their votes from the candidate of their party at the election approaching. It will be seen that Mr. Donahoo is afflicted with a mania for such breaches of faith as he attributes to me, and it is perhaps in view thereof not surprising that he should have imagined that I was influenced by the motives which in like case would have influenced himself.

James Ransom within a year owned a house and lot in the borough of Beaver. Mr. Angel, now the owner of this property, wished to purchase it. Ransom offered it at $4000, and Mr. Angel asked some time to consider the proposition. A few days afterward he mentioned the fact to Donahoo, being then an operator at Island Run, and asked him to say to Mr. Ransom that he accepted his proposition, and would take the property at his price.

Mr. Donahoo presented himself to Mrs. Ransom, Ransom being not then at home, announced that Mr. Angel had declined the proposition, and had bought other property in Sewickly, Allegheny county, which property he minutely described, but that he himself would purchase the property at an inferior figure, and urged upon her to take a part of the purchase money for her husband then and there. She declined. Ransom met Angel, ascertained the facts, and the latter became the owner of the property. Mr. Donahoo lied as to the refusal of Mr. Angel to accept the property, manufactured a description of property at Sewickly, which Mr. Angel had never bought or dreamed of purchasing, and endeavored to purchase the house and lot himself at a rate below that at which he had been instructed to accept it. It is for the readers of the Argus to determine whether he intended to buy and resell to Mr. Angel or not. Mr. Angel is a citizen of the borough of Beaver, and can be referred to for the particulars of this transaction.

Mr. Donahoo recently sold some oil territory to the Beaver County Oil Company. It is said that he represented to them, that it cost him but $1800 less than the sum at which he sold, but that he really cleared $4000 or $5000 on his investment. If this is not true he can refute it.

S. H. Piersol, a fellow Democrat in this Borough, who can be referred to, states that Donahoo deliberately "lied him out of" about one hundred dollars in a business transaction. If this is not true Donahoo can refute it.

Mr. Donahoo had a "private conversation with a gentleman whose name can be given if required, in which he agreed to sell him certain oil territory near Island Run for a certain sum, and agreed to give him a certain time to determine whether he would accept the proposition. He did accept within the time, but Donahoo was oblivious of the entire transaction. He had sold within the time for a better price. The purchaser offered to prove the contract by Donahoo's own note-book, but Donahoo declined to produce it.

Mr. John Blackmore, a Democrat, and a respectable citizen of the Borough of Beaver, employed Donahoo within the last year to purchase a horse for him, agreeing to pay him for his time and expenses. Donahoo bought the horse, represented to Blackmore that it cost $105 more than the actual price paid, and received the money together with pay for time and expenses.

It is unnecessary to say to the intelligent Republicans of Beaver county that I feel it to be degrading to myself to be compelled to enter into a defense against accusations of the infamous character which this man has made, or the exhibit of his character which is herewith presented. But I feel it to be a duty to the party which has honored me with its confidence, to refute the slanders which the Democracy through their abject instruments are visiting upon me, and to expose the character of the tools employed. I know that inducements of a pecuniary character have been offered to at least one Democrat in Beaver county to publish a statement equally false. Whether Donahoo is thus influenced I know not; I leave the people to determine.

A. W. TAYLOR.

Editor Argus: I only ask a very small space in your columns to close on my part the discussion on the County Railroad Stock. The two column article in the Local on this question contains no new matter, advances no better proof than that contained in the former article, and is in fact but a repetition throughout. In view of this fact I will not offer additional evidence in my possession. Every candid man must admit that the affidavits published were conclusive, and having truth on my side, I have no objections to the other side making their fall as easy as possible. If it affords them any consolation to speak harshly of me, and assert I am a liar, merely because the affidavits prove they are let them do so; nobody will be deceived thereby. That a mortgage was tendered by the President of the road to the county for the money advanced from good men who knew whereof they affirmed, had testified under oath, and scores of others could be found who would make the same statements. That Sholes was active in urging the Grand Jury to make the recommendation, is also proven so fully that no one who has any regard for truth will pretend to deny it. These were the only points really in controversy. That the county Commissioners were bound to make the subscription after the recommendation of the Grand Jury, was merely an assertion made in ignorance or in utter disregard of truth. The legal friends of the ostensible author picks out and seeks to cover up his retreat by quoting the opinion of lawyers given at the time. No lawyer could have given such an opinion. The gentlemen referred to were lawyers, and therefore never did, or if they did it is certainly very unaccountable. Having sustained every position by the best proof, the gentlemen of the other side have only to thank themselves for the unpleasant position they occupy. To charge falsehood is one thing, to prove is another; and having put me to the proof, they are now in for it. In closing this controversy, I have only to say that I do not appear as the defender of any Board of Commissioners whose conduct is deserving of censure I defend no man's wrong doings. If the present Board of Commissioners have squandered the people's money I have no desire to defend them. But that they are responsible for the indebtedness of the county and the consequent high taxation I deny. Cols. Sholes and his co-Commissioners, are responsible for a large part created by the Railroad subscription and their successors by the Jail debt. To pay these debts money has to be raised, and it is not fair that those who contracted the debt should abuse those who are compelled to pay. To show this in a proper light, and also that in those things for which Commissioners nowadays are denounced so terribly they were at least justified by the conduct of their predecessors in office was my only aim. If Sholes and others of his party did wrong it may not be a reason for others doing so, but it is a reason why they at least should not lead in the cry against him. Respectfully,

J. S. RUTAN.

As the approaching elections are being prepared for by a vigorous campaign, and in all the States members of Congress, and in some Governors, are to be chosen, the public are no doubt desirous of being posted as to the time of the elections in the various Northern States. The first to be held will be upon the first Tuesday of September in Vermont, after which will follow California and Nevada upon the first Wednesday; and Maine upon the second Monday of September. Colorado will vote upon the first Tuesday in October; Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Iowa and Minnesota upon the second Tuesday; and West Virginia on the fourth Thursday. On the first Tuesday in November will vote New York, New Jersey, Illinois and Wisconsin; on the first Wednesday, Maryland and Kansas; and on the Tuesday after the first Monday, Massachusetts, Delaware, Michigan and Missouri. This closes the list of elections for the year 1866, and in 1867, New Hampshire votes on the second Tuesday of March, Connecticut on the first Monday of April, Rhode Island on the first Wednesday of April, and Kentucky on the first Monday of August. Oregon will not have another election until the first Monday of June, 1868. For nearly all the elections to be held in the fall of this year tickets have already been nominated, and in all the States the contending parties are divided almost solely by the issues involved in the President's policy.

Gov. AIKEN, of South Carolina, in conversation with Mr. Eggleston, member of Congress from Cincinnati, let the cat out of the bag in the following way, as shown by Mr. Eggleston in a speech in Cincinnati, a few days ago, from which we quote as follows:

"Said Gov. Aiken, of South Carolina, when in Washington a short time ago, when I asked him why he insisted that the members of his State being admitted to seats, and asked him if the interests of his State were not well taken care of. "Mr. Eggleston," said he "there are only two things that you have not done for us and never will do. We have hundreds and thousands of widows in the South, and we want them to be in Congress so as to place our widows on the pension rolls of the United States, that they may have the means to support the widows of your soldiers to get. The other matter is that we have contracted a large debt at the South, as you have in the North, and it is not right for us to be taxed to pay your debts unless your taxes also go to pay our debt."

REMOVED.—The Argus office has been removed to the old "Argus building," immediately opposite Orr's store, where it will be happy to meet its friends on all occasions.

☞ WM. BINGHAM, JR., 54 Fifth st., Pittsburg, is the authorized agent for the ARGUS in that city.

☞ The present term of Court is well attended. No case of any importance has yet been tried.

A SERENADE.—During our absence from home on Saturday evening last, our young friends came to our dwelling and complimented us with a serenade. They have our thanks for their friendly call, and we trust that "long may they wave."

PIC-NIC.—We are requested to state that there will be a pic-nic at Patterson's Grove, in Old Brighton, on Monday, Sept. 10, 1866. The managers, we believe, are H. M'Guire, W. A. M'Millin, L. Kelly, Thos. M'Guire, Jas. Kelvy, and H. Cunning. From the well known energy of these gentlemen, and the arrangements they are making, we judge a good time generally will be had. The Great Western String Band of Pittsburg will be present on the occasion, and a dinner served on the ground.

A SPECK OF WAR.—On Monday last Mr. Shroads, the Steward of the Poor House, and Mr. Odell, the editor of the Local, had some angry words near the Court House, at the conclusion of which the latter assaulted, and drew a revolver upon Mr. Shrodes. A short time afterwards a warrant was issued for his arrest, but it was not served until the next morning, at which time he gave bail for his appearance.

As the matter will be carried before the Court, we forbear any comments at the present time.

A SOCIAL SUPPER.—On Saturday evening last Prof. J. H. Veon, after having passed an examination preparatory to his admission to the bar as an attorney, gave a supper to his friends at Mr. Proudley's Hotel in Bridgewater. The supper was an excellent one, and all who were in attendance did it ample justice. The examining committee were Sam. D. Wilson, Samuel Magaw, and E. B. Daugherty, Esqs. The Professor is personally a very clever man, and we doubt not will make his mark in the practice of the law.

A FLAG TO BE PRESENTED.—It will be noticed in another column that the County Executive Committee of the Union party propose giving a fine banner to the township sending the largest delegation to the Mass Meeting in this place on the 11th. The committee appointed to procure the banner, count the delegations, and present the flag is composed of the following gentlemen: John Caughey, Geo. Hamilton, Capt. M. R. Adams, A. R. Moore and Jos. Ledlie.

The committee desire us to state that the delegations will be counted at the gate, as the procession moves into the Fair Grounds.

We hope our friends in the several townships will stir themselves at once. Meet together immediately, make all necessary arrangements, and turn out on that day in overpowering numbers. Our cause is a noble one, and it must not suffer through the apathy of its friends.

A GOLDEN WEDDING.—On Wednesday last (the 29th of August, 1866) fifty years ago, Lewis Reno, Esq., of this county, and his amiable and devoted wife were joined together in marriage. The event was duly celebrated by their gathering around them on that day, at their home in Rochester, all of their children, grand-children and acquaintances of long standing. The usual festivities on such occasions were enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Reno are aged respectively 75 and 70 years, and have six children and fourteen grand-children living. The couple have resided in this locality for many years, and themselves and descendants are among the most respectable and intelligent people of the county.

Having welcomed the Argus into their household for forty-eight years, it, of course, wishes that life, health and continued prosperity may be theirs for a long time to come.

INTERESTING LETTER.—Gentlemen:—In regard to the Chickering Pianos, I can only reiterate the praises of all the celebrated musicians who have used them. As a teacher in the Steubenville Seminary for many years, where they have been in constant use, I have had good opportunity to judge of their durability. A Piano that can withstand the constant practice of boarding school Misses, as these do, and still retain their fine tone, must be an instrument that has every necessary quality combined. I give them my unqualified commendation, and think them unequalled by any in America.

H. B. GRAYSON,
Prof. Music, Steubenville Fem. Sem.

To Messrs. MELLOR & Co. Pittsburgh, agents for the Chickering piano.

See advertisement in another column.

AN IMPOSTER.—The South American Major-General (!) Coolbaugh, of whom we spoke a couple of weeks ago as being temporarily at Phillipsburg, this county, turns out to be an imposter. Although dressed in military costume, and carrying papers with him to show that he had been, and was, what we represented him before, it now appears that he has neither been in our own service, nor in any way connected with the South American army. His papers were therefore forgeries. The part he played in this vicinity, however, paid him somewhat, but not, we presume, as much as he expected, on account of the premature exposure of his swindling character. He and his lady left Phillipsburg last week in hot haste, but not before they had contracted a heavy boarding bill in that place, amounting to $150 or $200, and a livery bill in Rochester, amounting to some $60 or $80 more—both of which were left unpaid. An exchange paper says that this same "General" Coolbaugh recently "did" the Courtland Hotel, in New York, out of a "stiff boarding bill." At that time he was a "General" in the Mexican service. He is said now to be a native of Monroe county, and is an ardent political talker of the Hiester Clymer persuasion. He is boisterously hostile to "Sambo," and misses no opportunity in kicking and cuffing that harmless individual to his heart's content.

A CHIVALROUS COPPERHEAD.—At the Clymer meeting, on Friday last, a middle-aged lady of the coppery persuasion, made herself very demonstrative at every remark made concerning the negro, by the would-be Governor. She directed her remarks particularly to two genteel, well-dressed and intelligent looking ladies, who happened to be standing near her. The ladies listened to her offensive remarks quite patiently for some time without replying; but as she persisted in addressing them they mildly began to answer her, and in turn brought some very perplexing questions to her consideration. She was very soon confounded, and ascertaining that she could not keep her end of the argument along, she flew into a rage, and began calling names. At this stage of the controversy, a heavy set, bushy-headed, heavy-whiskered, unwashed, uncombed "cop" interfered, and insolently ordered the two Union ladies to "shut up," and quit talking; but, alas! for poor "cop," a couple of Union gentlemen happened to be standing near by, who overheard all that had taken place, and who quietly told him that it was not his "put in," and that if he was not satisfied with his present locality he "should pull up and move out." He took the hint, and at once subsided.

MARSHALS OF THE DAY.—The General Committee of Arrangements for the Mass Meeting, to be held in this place on the 11th, have appointed the following gentlemen to act as Chief Marshal and Assistants on that day:

Chief Marshal—Brig.-Gen. JOHN S. LITTELL, of Greene.

Assistants—Gen. W. W. Irwin, of Pulaski; Capt. John Boyle, of New Brighton; Capt. E. Barnes, of Beaver; John H. Wilson, Esq., of Franklin; Capt. George Weaver, of Vanport; Dr. Shurlock, of Darlington, A. P. Laccock, Esq., of Freedom; J. C. Christy, Esq., of Raccoon; Capt. Dan'l F. Dawson, of Ohio; Wm. M. Reed, Esq., of Independence; Dr. J. M. Cummins, of Industry; Henry Goehring, Esq., of New Sewickly; Col. T. J. Power, of Rochester; Capt. James Darragh, of Sharon; Samuel Blair, Esq., of Homewood; Capt. John M. Srodes, of Phillipsburg.

The Chief Marshal is earnestly requested to be in Beaver on the evening of the 10th, and the Assistants will report to him at the Court House at 8 o'clk on the morning of the 11th.

HEAVY RAIN.—On last Wednesday afternoon Beaver was visited with one of the heaviest showers of rain that we have seen for a long time. It continued for about one hour, and the main streets during this time wore quite a lake like appearance. With so much wet weather as we now have, and have had for some time back, we fear that the grape crop will be much damaged before it ripens.

Editor Argus: Permit me through your columns to correct a mistake that has been circulated by some one, that D. A. Glass has retired from the auctioneer business. I would just say to my old friends and the public generally that it is a mistake; that I am still in that business; and being duly commissioned as auctioneer for the county of Beaver, I will attend to all sales or auctions throughout the county wherever my services may be required. Give me a call. (I carry the papers.)

DIED:

Judicial Conference, 27th District.

NATIONAL HOTEL,
BEAVER, July 2, 1866.

Pursuant to notice, the Conferees appointed by the Republican Conventions of Washington and Beaver counties, now constituting the 27th Judicial District of Penn'a, met to put in nomination a candidate for the office of President Judge of said District. John H. Ewing, William McKennan, and William McDaniel, Esqs., representing Washington county, Dr. M. Lawrence, Benj. Wilde, and H. Hice, Esqs., representing Beaver county.—The conference was organized by electing John H. Ewing, Esq., Chairman, and appointing H. Hice Sec'y.

Mr. Wilde, on behalf of Beaver county, then presented the name of Hon. B. B. Chamberlin, and Mr. McDaniel, on behalf of Washington county, that of A. W. Acheson, Esq, as candidates. A ballot being had, resulted in three votes for Mr. Chamberlin, and three for Mr. Acheson.—After a full exchange of views as to the respective candidates and their positions, a second ballot was had, resulting as before.

The conference then adjourned, to meet at the Monongahela House, Pittsburgh, on the 2d of July; at which time and place the conference again assembled—all members being present. Ballotings were again had, resulting as before, in three votes for Mr. Chamberlin, and three for Mr. Acheson. Being unable to agree, on motion adjourned to meet at the call of the Chairman.

THURSDAY, August 9, 1866.

Conferees again met pursuant to call of the Chairman, all members present. On motion, proceeded to another ballot for candidate, with the same result as on previous occasions. A motion to adjourn sine die being then made, some informal discussion grew up, pending which the motion to adjourn was withdrawn, and it was then on motion resolved that the conferees do now adjourn, being unable to make a nomination, that they report their action to their respective County Committees, and ask further advice and instruction, and that they again meet at the call of the Chairman.

AUGUST 29, 1866.

Conference again met pursuant to call of Chairman. All members present except Dr. Lawrence, who reported his inability to attend on account of sickness in his family. Mr. Wilde informed the conference that he was instructed to withdraw the name of Hon. B. B. Chamberlin as a candidate, which he did; and, declining to act further with the conference, himself withdrew. There then being but one member present from Beaver county, on motion adjourned to meet at Frankfort Springs, on Saturday, Sept. 1st, 1866; when and where the conferees again assembled. Mr. M'Kennan being unable to attend, D. S. Wilson, Esq., was authorized to appear and act in his stead, and on motion admitted to a seat in the conference. After some discussion another ballot was had, which resulted in the nomination of A. W. Acheson, Esq., who was then declared the nominee for President Judge of the 27th Judicial District. On motion, adjourned.

JOHN H. EWING,
H. HICE, Sec'y. Chairman.

"Use the Best!"
DR. CLOCK'S

EXCELSIOR HAIR RESTORER IS THE best ever offered to the public and the only one possessing all the merits claimed for it.—It restores gray hair to its original color, makes hair grow on bald heads when falling off from disease; removes Scruff, Dandruff, etc.; arrests its falling off or turning gray; cures sick headache and all diseases of the scalp; causes harsh, wiry hair to become soft, pliable and luxuriantly glossy. It is elegantly perfumed, and all that can be desired for a dressing. It contains no sugar of lead or other mineral so injurious to the head and hair, and of which most preparations now in use are composed, but is a purely vegetable compound. WE CHALLENGE THE WORLD to produce an instance where the Restorer has failed when used according to directions. Among the thousands who have used it we have yet to learn of one who is not perfectly satisfied with its results. Hair white as snow is with marvelous rapidity restored to all its pristine beauty by its use. It is not a dye, but by supplying the secretions of the capillary glands acts as a restorer. Mothers, whose children's hair is harsh, wiry, or thin and scant, will find by using the Restorer it will immediately improve and may be dressed in any desired form, thus laying the foundation for a good head of hair, so desirable in after life. The proprietor is aware of the many who have been disappointed by the high sounding pretense of the numerous preparations with which the market has been filled for a few years past, but such entire confidence does he place in the merits of his Restorer that he offers, in all cases, to refund the money if, after a thorough trial of two bottles, it fails to give perfect satisfaction. A single trial will convince the most skeptical of its merits. Put up in large bottles and sold by all druggists at $1 per bottle.

In electing Prof. Taylor Principal, under an arrangement by which he will hereafter continue his connection for a term of years with this institution, the Board of Trustees feel that it is placed upon a better and more permanent basis than heretofore; while his character, long practical experience, and reputation as a successful educator, give assurance that under his management the school must prosper, and be, what the Board aim to make it, a first-class Academy, where young men may obtain a thorough English, Classical and Commercial education, at moderate expense.
